

The seed of the wawa tree is extremely hard. In Akan culture, it is a symbol of someone who is tough and strong, able to overcome great adversity. From this comes the expression, "He is as tough as the seed of a wawa tree." (Cye dɛn se wawa aba.)

Adinkra symbols are part of the Ashanti culture associated with Ghana, West Africa

For more information on Adinkra symbols, visit:
www.welltempered.net/adinkra

WAWA ABA

"seed of the wawa tree"